Chehab Sworn in As President Of Lebanon

General Elected As Compromise Choice of Nation

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Gen. Fuad Chehab was sworn in today as the third president of independent Lebanon and immediately pledged the withdrawal of American troops.

Chehab was elected by nearly all factions of Parliament July 31 as a compromise choice to end the political tension which erupted into open rebellion more than four months ago.

American Marines and Army troops began arriving here July 15 in response to the call of Chehab's predecessor, President Camille Chamoun, who charged that Gamal Abdel Nasser's United Arab Republic was attempting to overthrow Chamoun's pro-Western regime.

Shooting again broke out in Beirut Monday night on the eve of the inauguration, and tension again climbed after a lull since Chehab's election. A curfew around the clock was in force as a result of mass kidnappings by political factions.

Gen. Chehab, the former army chief of staff, spoke to a special session of the Lebanese Parliament. He said his government will attempt to remove the tension between Lebanon and "some of its brother Arab countries."

About 8,000 troops of the U.S. 24th Infantry Division from Germany and about 1,700 Marines are still here of the original force of nearly 15,000 men. Three Marine battalions already have pulled out as a result of agreement between the United States on the one hand and Chamoun and Chehab on the other.

Secretary of State Dulles has said the United States would consult with the new President on the question of withdrawing the remaining forces.

Mount Union Links Journalism With English Education

ALLIANCE — Journalistic training need not be confined to large institutions with a very specialized program. That's the summation of a recent survey conducted by Lyle Crist, a member of the English faculty and formerly director of publicity at Mount Union College.

The survey, printed in the current issue of Journalism Quarterly, represents a geographical cross-section of 42 small liberal art colleges in 14 states. All but 10 of the schools have an enrollment of under 1,000 students.

Twenty-eight of the colleges offer specific courses in journalism ranging from the seven at two colleges to a single course offered by even schools.

Those offering journalism courses gave varied comments that could be summed up in one reply. "No liberal arts department can graduate trained newsmen; but we can graduate those who perceive what newsmen do — and who can readily adapt themselves either as writers or readers to the news media."

Fourteen colleges replied that they felt there was no place for journalism in a liberal arts college.

However, three did call for better training of secondary school teachers in this area. And seven others indicated a need for "responsible readers" and admitted that some training in newspaper practice might be desirable.

Like several of the colleges sampled, Mount Union offers three journalism courses within the English Department framework.

Rural Letter Carriers To Hear Wayne Hays

Columbiana County Ohio Rural Letter Carriers Association and Auxiliary will be hosts Saturday at the Masonic Temple in Lisbon to the associations and auxiliaries of Belmont, Carroll, Harrison and Jefferson counties for the annual fall meeting of the 18th Congressional District of Ohio Rural Letter Carriers Association.

Speakers include Wayne L. Hays of the 18th District, Edwin R. Cunningham, association secretary and Mrs. Paul Morton, auxiliary state president.

Joseph A. Spievak, president of the Youngstown Limb Co., Inc., will show a film on "The Preparation and Use of Artificial Limbs."

The 6 p.m. turkey dinner to precede the business meeting and program will be served by the Lisbon Chapter, Order of Eastern Star.

Warsaw Confab In Third Session

No Fresh Hope On Formosa Deadlock

WASHINGTON (AP)—The third round of talks between the United States and Red China at Warsaw reportedly has brought no fresh hope of a break in the Formosa deadlock.

President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles were expected to review the critical situation upon the President's return today from his Newport, R.I., vacation headquarters.

There is increasing concern that unless there is a favorable break, Red China's avowed determination to take Chinese Nationalist territory by force and drive U.S. forces from the Formosa area may lead to conflict.

U.S. Ambassador Jacob Beam and Ambassador Wang Ping-nan of Red China held their third session on the crisis in Warsaw Monday. It lasted 1 1/2 hours.

Standing Firm

Diplomatic informants said that Red China was standing firm on its demand that the United States agree to abandon Formosa. U.S. officials said this was so completely contrary to basic American policy in the Far East as to be entirely beyond serious consideration.

The United States, for its part, insisted again that the Reds agree to a cease-fire that would halt their shelling of the Nationalist-held island of Quemoy.

Beam and Wang agreed to meet again Thursday. Some officials said that the United States would not break off the talks as long as the Reds want to continue them. But reports persisted that if there is no progress in the next few days the United States would take the crisis to the United Nations.

County Men Sentenced On Morals Charges

LISBON — Two Columbiana County men were sentenced by Common Pleas Judge Raymond Buzzard Monday afternoon on morals charges after they pleaded guilty at arraignment hearings yesterday morning and asked for leniency.

Raymond Landfried, 23, of East Liverpool was sentenced to one to two years in the Mansfield Reformatory on a charge of having carnal knowledge of a 14-year-old East Liverpool girl.

Wayne Campbell, 20, of Negley was sentenced to six months in the county jail for having carnal knowledge of a 15-year-old Columbiana County girl. He is serving a six-month term for contributing to the delinquency of the same girl. Judge Buzzard said he could serve the terms concurrently.

Communists Hurl 5,832 Shells At Islands

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—President Chiang Kai-shek and Adm. Harry D. Felt discussed the Formosa Strait crisis today as the Communist threat to the offshore islands went into a second tense month.

The President of Nationalist China and the commander in chief of U.S. forces in the Pacific were believed to have considered ways of getting more supplies to the besieged Quemoy.

Continuing strong Nationalist demands for U.S. support in aerial attacks on the mainland gun positions presumably were voiced at the three-hour meeting. American officers have restrained such action for fear of spreading the vest pocket war.

The Nationalists said another supply convoy got through to Quemoy and more supplies were parachuted to Little Quemoy. With the Communist bombardment continuing, however, the supply situation on the little islands remained tight.

The Defense Ministry said the Communists hurled 5,832 shells at the islands in the last six hours Monday, the last day of a full

Auto Industry Awaits Chrysler, UAW Pact

DETROIT (AP)—The auto industry waited today to see whether Chrysler Corp. would reach contract agreement with the United Auto Workers or whether it would await results of the UAW General Motors negotiations.

UAW President Walter Reuther, who has personally directed his union's meetings with Chrysler since Monday, told Chrysler Monday it had until noon Wednesday to settle.

If no Chrysler agreement is reached by that hour, Reuther said he would "put the Chrysler talks on the back burner and let them simmer" while he turned his entire attention to GM talks.

Reuther's auto workers have set Sept. 30 as a strike date at GM if no new contract is worked out to replace the old three-year pact that ran out Memorial Day weekend. They also plan to strike Chrysler if contract talks fail, with the strike date to be set by Reuther and his top aides. The union settled with Ford last Wednesday.

Child, Woman Hurt In Mishaps at Homes

Two area residents are patients in City Hospital following miscellaneous accidents at their homes Monday morning.

Kenneth Jones, one-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Evan C. Jones of Washingtonville, suffered a possible concussion and laceration of the forehead when he fell out of his high chair. He is reported in fairly good condition.

Mrs. Jennie Widowfield, 68, of East Palestine is reported in good condition after her left arm became caught in a washing machine wringer. She sustained contusions and a possible fracture of the arm.

City GOP Plans Oct. 22 Dinner

Sen. Prescott Bush Will Be Speaker

The Salem Area Republican Club held a well-attended meeting Monday night at the Memorial Building and formulated plans for a dinner meeting here Wednesday evening, Oct. 22.

Speakers will be U.S. Senator Prescott Bush of Connecticut and Gordon Jeffrey, state highway safety director.

A committee headed by Wade A. Loop was named to complete arrangements.

The Republicans will establish a downtown headquarters where literature and voting information will be available. Lloyd Gordon, chairman of the organizing committee, and Ernest Whitacre, finance chairman, will be active in the drive to secure new members and funds for the fall campaign.

Mrs. Letha Astory, 18th district national committeewoman, announced at the meeting that "Operation Coffee Cup," as requested by State Chairman Ray Bliss and the National committee, will be held throughout Columbiana County.

These neighborhood meetings will be open to all citizens, regardless of political affiliation. Mrs. Claudia Cunningham of Columbiana is county chairman. At least one

Two Auto Accidents Probed by Patrol

Two minor auto accidents occurred on area roads Monday, state highway patrolmen report.

Fred Kremser, 67, of Toronto, lost control of his car in the fog, causing it to crash into a culvert on Rt. 45, four and one-half miles north of Wellsville, at 7:15 a.m. Wesley Beersford, 35, of Darlington, Pa., escaped injury when an unknown car struck his auto on Rt. 14, six miles east of Columbiana, at 9:08 p.m.

The case is still being investigated by patrolmen.

Lisbon Council Lets Sidewalk Contracts

LISBON — At the regular meeting of Village Council Monday night it was disclosed that Council, at a special session Thursday, had let two contracts totaling $1,700 for the construction of sidewalks along Thomas Road from W. Lincoln Way to Chestnut St.

A contract was awarded to the K & M Construction Co. of Lisbon on its bid of $950 for installation of the curbing.

The Nicholson Construction Co. of Wellsville will lay the sidewalk for $750 after Lisbon service department workers grade the ground. The village also will provide the concrete.

At its previous regular meeting Council rejected as too high three bids on the project, which involves the construction of a 412-foot walk and curbing.

The lowest bid, submitted by the Paul Mitchell Excavating Co. of Lisbon, totaled $4,988.

Councilmen also discussed continuing the sidewalk on Thomas Road to a lot at the intersection of High St. which has walks, a distance of about 350 feet.

Its extension would permit children attending Lincoln School to traverse the sidewalk the entire length of Thomas Road, instead of having to walk in the road.

Following a lengthy discussion on reverting to Eastern Standard Time, Council asked Mayor John Todd to broach the subject at the Columbiana County Mayors Assn. meeting scheduled Oct. 2 at the Timberlanes in Salem.

Councilmen agreed to follow the course taken by officials of neighboring communities. Council orig-

Red China's U.N. Seating May Be Shelved

Lodge, Gromyko Exchange Angry Words In Assembly

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —The United States felt confident of easily shelving for another year the Red China seating issue today as the General Assembly neared a vote.

The prevote debate was marked by a head-on clash between the Soviet Union and the United States on the Formosa Strait crisis.

U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge lashed back angrily after Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko had accused the United States of "playing with fire in the Far East."

Lodge told the Assembly Gromyko's words "hardly become a government with the brutal record of the Soviet Union."

The Americans were sure their postponement motion would get 45 favorable votes and that not more than 30 would be against.

Angry Took Floor

Lodge angrily took the floor to answer Gromyko after the Soviet foreign minister had injected the Formosa question into the representation debate. Lodge had observed Assembly rules in earlier remarks and refrained from engaging in broader issues connected with the question.

Gromyko demanded that the United States pull its military forces from Formosa "while it is not too late."

"How long," he said, "is the United Nations going to tolerate being used as a tool of a policy of interference in the internal affairs of another country, the policy of direct aggression pursued by the United States?"

Lodge retorted that Gromyko

Reilly School PTA Hears Deane Phillips

Sixty-one new memberships were received by the Reilly School Parent-Teachers Association Monday night when 112 persons attended the first meeting of the school year.

Speaker of the evening was Deane Phillips who discussed his duties as child accounting officer of Salem public schools. A question-and-answer period followed.

Mrs. Walter Alesi received the award of a one-year's subscription to the Ohio Parent-Teachers Magazine.

Richard Herron presided during the business meeting. Secretary's and treasurer's reports were given by Mr. Louis Schilling and Mr. Harold Whitcomb, respectively.

Mrs. Robert Wilson is membership chairman.

Social hour chairman was Mrs. Arthur W. Edling, assisted by Mrs. Steven Hoffmann, Mrs. Thomas Stigges and Mrs. George Hansen. Open house will be observed as part of the program at the next meeting on Oct. 27.

SHERMAN ADAMS, top presidential assistant who resigned Monday, has a slight smile at a remark from President Eisenhower as the Chief Executive accompanied Adams to a helicopter after a conference at the Summer White House in Newport, R.I. Adams flew to Washington and then last night announced his resignation.

Virginia Pupils Ask Opening of Schools

By The Associated Press

Youngsters in Virginia and Arkansas played an active part in the integration crisis Monday while Florida's Gov. Leroy Collins told the Southern Governors' Conference the dispute could lead to a national catastrophe.

High school pupils in Norfolk and Charlottesville, Va., signed petitions urging that their public schools be opened so they could get an education.

Eight Negroes re-entered Van Buren, Ark., High School and three others returned to the nearby junior high amid only minor demonstrations. They had been out for about two weeks because of a temporary boycott by white pupils.

In Little Rock, about 200 shouting teen-agers demonstrated in front of the governor's mansion, chanting in pep rally style, "Two four, six, eight! We don't want to integrate!"

Closed High Schools

Gov. Orval E. Faubus, who closed all four Little Rock high schools, was attending the governors' conference in Lexington, Ky., however.

He told newsmen there the Little Rock schools probably would reopen next week as private institutions after Saturday's special election on the question of admitting Negroes.

"We don't anticipate any legal difficulty," he said, "but there could be litigation brought by the federal government. If they want to tie everything up and keep the schools closed further, that will be their responsibility."

Collins suggested in a speech to the opening business session of the conference that the integration controversy become the first order of business when Congress meets in January.

"Tragically I see little hope for pulling out of this crisis—short of national catastrophe—if we continue to follow the present pattern of events," he said. "Too much time already has elapsed to warrant any further delay in extricating the nation from the desegregation dilemma."

Urging Support

A resolution urging support of the Faubus' effort to keep the Little Rock schools segregated was adopted by the youth group of 17 Missionary Baptist churches in the Little Rock area.

At Johnson City, Tenn., five Negro undergraduate students attended classes at East Tennessee State College for the first time in the history of the school. No incidents were reported.

And at East Lansing, Mich., Ernest Green, the only Negro to graduate from Little Rock's Central High last spring, began his college career at Michigan State University. He was assigned a dormitory room with a white roommate.

Former Aide Relinquishes Advisory Post

Republican Pressure About 'Corruption' Caused Resignation

BULLETIN WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower returned to Washington today from a 25-day vacation at Newport, R.I. One of his first big jobs is to pick a new chief aide as successor to Sherman Adams.

The President, looking tanned and rested, smiled and waved briefly to a small crowd on hand as he left his private plane, the Columbine III. Mrs. Eisenhower was with him.

Eisenhower left immediately for the White House.

WASHINGTON (AP) — While millions watched with varying reactions, Sherman Adams bowed out Monday night as the man closest to the throne in the Eisenhower administration.

Still insisting "I have done no wrong," the presidential assistant yielded to renewed pressure from Republican candidates and continuing criticism from Democrats of his relations with Bernard Goldfine, the Boston millionaire and long-time friend from whom he acknowledged receiving gifts.

Announcing his resignation in a 10-minute nationwide radio-TV appearance, President Eisenhower's top aide said, "I must give full consideration to the effect of my continuing presence on the public scene."

But political controversy boiled unabated over the "corruption" issue, and much of the comment indicated a belief Adams had acted too late to remove it from the November election campaign.

Gave No Hint

Adams gave his listeners no hint how quickly the "orderly process" of his resignation would take him from his watchdog quarters next to Eisenhower's White House office.

Neither was there any positive indication from administration sources about a successor who will move into a spot from which his political enemies often said Adams was running the government.

In immediate speculation, however, the name of Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, president of the American Red Cross, stood near the top. Gruenther has served before a Eisenhower's good right arm.

Eisenhower accepted Adams' resignation "with sadness," but the President's chagrin at Adams' self-imposed fadeout obviously was not shared by Republican

County Rural Pupils Receiving TB Tests

LISBON—The Columbiana County Health Department started this week on its program to administer the Mantoux tuberculin test to all high school senior students in the county health district, Dr. C. S. Palmer, county health commissioner, announced today.

The board of health considers it advisable for students to be tested for tuberculosis before graduating, and since only those over 18 years of age are eligible to participate in mass chest X-ray programs, the Mantoux test offers the only positive test available for this group.

The test is accurate in detecting the presence of the infection, Dr. Palmer said. Arrangements will be made by the health department for those who react positively to the test to receive chest X-rays. However, only a small percentage of the reactors are found to actually have the disease, he said.

Lower grade students leaving the county health district to continue their education in other areas also will be offered the Mantoux test, Dr. Palmer said. The testing material is provided by the Columbiana County Public Health League as the health department lacks sufficient funds for this purpose.

Exchange Student Tells of Russian Visit

Editor's Note—The Soviet Union is still a land of mystery to most Americans, but some U. S. exchange students have been given the opportunity to see it first-hand. Beverly Deepe, a 23-year-old Phi Beta Kappa graduate of the University of Nebraska just back from there, introduces some Soviet students in this first of four articles on her experiences in the Soviet Union and the satellite countries.

By BEVERLY DEEPE
Written for The Associated Press
It was a rare invitation—and I accepted promptly. Not every day does a Soviet student ask an American girl to his home.

At the set hour, Ivan appeared at my living quarters. We left without being seen by guards, evaded two pairs of "big ears" which followed us and finally we slipped into a courtyard filled with trees and grape arbors adjoining Ivan's one room and kitchen unit.

Inside, several of his friends were waiting to meet me. In the center of the room stood a table covered with worn oilcloth. The walls were ringed with a refrigerator four feet high, a cot, a sofa, a bookcase, a dish cupboard, a tape recorder and short wave radio.

Someone flicked on the radio and brought in the Voice of America. Elvis Presley wailed out in deafening volume—and for a moment I thought I was back in the United States instead of an exchange student in the U.S.S.R. After urging by his friends, Ivan asked me to jitterbug. It was a new style for me—with jerky arm motions and uncertain steps.

"We aren't supposed to dance the rock 'n' roll," he said, "but everybody does in his home."

Then we started talking, and from the Russians came a barrage of questions. "Do you like classical or progressive jazz best? I like Louis Armstrong."

"What American authors are the most popular now? Faulkner will be translated here this fall."

The students said Jack London, Theodore Dreiser and Mark Twain were the American authors most read in the Soviet Union. Some of the works of Hemingway and Steinbeck are available.

Then Ivan's friends left and he leaned toward me. "What really happened in Hungary?" he whispered.

I started to answer, but one student came back. Ivan quickly changed the subject.

Ivan was one young Russian apparently willing to express doubts about Soviet standards of truth. But in my experience he was an exception. Only on rare occasions will Soviet students—even in private conversation—unveil dissatisfaction with their country. Then it concerns mainly the shortage of consumer goods.

Usually the Russians quizzed furiously. But when they were present in large numbers the questions were almost always argumentative: "What are your troops doing in Lebanon? Why is there racial discrimination in the United States? Why do you have unemployment?"

Other than Ivan's interrupted query about Hungary, the most pungent expression of disrespect for the system came when one of the Americans asked a Russian what he thought of Komsomol, the young Communist League.

"Well, I think you have an expression, pain where you sit-down," he answered in broken English.

While dissatisfaction with communism appeared rare in the Soviet Union, the reverse seemed to be true among students in Poland. There I found that students work under far less control. They don't ask about jazz; they take you to a student dance where U. S. hep cats could find their match. They don't ask about modern art; colorful and modernistic advertising posters enliven billboards and walls.

In fact, a Polish student has much more to tell than ask. One Pole made numerous anti-Soviet remarks to me and accused Poland's leader, Wladyslaw Gomulka, of "fouling up," especially in handling church-state relations.

He pulled out a copy of Pravda, flipped the pages and said: "Look, it says nothing here but 'keep smiling.'" Then he showed me a Polish student newspaper which is free to print such Polish quotations as "Poles are not geese, they have their own tongue" or "freedom means as much as life."

But he shook his head. "We have no hope of being independent; the Soviet Union is too close and too big. They have troops in the Warsaw suburbs."

"But what can Poland do?" I asked. "Just keep smiling," he replied. Later, I noticed how a Polish newspaper phrased the thought: "He who laughs, lasts."

The Polish student dropped his smile and looked at me intently. "You've been to Soviet Union," he said. "Tell me, which is stronger—Russia or the United States? This is the big question the Poles are asking."

Next: Soviet vacations.

Ford Workers Return In Canton, Lima

CLEVELAND (AP) — Workers at Ford Motor Co. plants in Canton and Lima returned to work today, but a United Auto Workers strike over local issues continued for more than three-fourths of Ford's Ohio employees.

Monday night the Lima engine plant, employing 881 hourly workers, and the Canton forge plant, which has 782, agreed to end the walkout which started with a national strike last Wednesday.

At both places, settlement was reached on local issue to supplement the matter agreement negotiated in Detroit a few hours after the strike began.

Older Works Lose In Pension Plans It's Your Pocketbook

By FAYE HENLE
In coming months management and labor will scrutinize the effect of pension programs on the hiring of older workers.

Newell Brown, assistant secretary of labor, says that many a company discriminates against the older worker on the grounds that he will not be serving the company a sufficient number of years to make it economical to incorporate him into its pension fund program.

Therefore, rather than have a dissatisfied worker, it prefers to hire younger personnel.

What is management's answer to this?

NOT TOO LONG AGO the National Association of Manufacturers asked 70 leading companies: "If you have a pension plan, does it affect your employment of those over 45?"

Close to 58 per cent declared age was no consideration provided the older worker had the qualifications needed to fill the job.

About 30 per cent stipulated they could not incorporate anyone who had not served the company at least five years, and the majority appeared to prefer 10 years in to their pension plans.

The remaining declared that while they did not discriminate against older workers, they did not invite them to join the company's pension plan.

One company reported it offered "a reasonably liberal" separation plan for those not eligible for a pension and another that it grants full vesting provisions after 10 years service so that an employee who moves on to other work carries with him retirement benefits related to his employment with the company.

What are vesting rights? A vesting right is the right of a worker to the sums of money which both he and his employer have contributed toward his retirement pay.

THE NATIONAL Planning Association believes that pension rights should be transferred among different funds through a central clearing house.

As matters stand today, many an older worker remains at his present job simply because this is the only way he can be assured the full benefit of his pension.

If this is the force compelling him to remain on the job, he is not giving it the maximum of his abilities. In fact, he might be denying both his present and possibly a future employer valuable service.

Management in its anxiety to keep pension costs to a minimum, may be overlooking an important fact. With the great forward stride that medicine is making, it might actually cost a company less to hire and retire the older man, whose life expectancy now, according to some life insurance companies, is only three years less than that of the younger man.

3 Algerian Terrorists Killed After Firing on Police Car

PARIS (AP) — Submachine guns chattered in a vacant lot early today in the Aubervilliers section of Paris near the municipal slaughterhouse.

Oil Firm's Sales Head Will Be Soil Speaker

Thomas P. Christen

LISBON — Thomas P. Christen of Cleveland, manager of farm sales for the Standard Oil Co., will address the annual soil conservation district meeting Saturday, Oct. 18, at the Winona Methodist Church.

There will be no election at this year's meeting. The program will begin at 7:30 p.m.

Christen is a native Ohioan born in Lakewood and educated at Ohio State University. He is active in community and statewide organizations and is director of Soho's agricultural relations program which includes 4-H tractor, Ohio Future Farmers of America, farm safety and tractor maintenance clinics.

Women of the church will serve a turkey dinner.

TO APPEAR ON TV

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Melissa Ann Montgomery, 10-year-old daughter of George and Dinah Shore Montgomery, will appear with her mother in an episode of the Danny Thomas television show. Both Melissa and Dinah will play themselves. And she has another job. "Just playing myself on my mother's program," Melissa explained. "We're type-cast."

gendarmes, including one whom the Algerians wounded, tracked them down.

Ten minutes later the three terrorists were dead.

At Metz in eastern France about the same time, an Algerian fired three bullets at a French noncommissioned army officer.

The soldier crumpled into the street, dead.

Across the Mediterranean in war-weary Algeria, authorities said French soldiers came across the mass grave of between 400 and 500 Algerian nationalist rebels.

An official French announcement Monday night said notes found with the bodies proved they were slain by their former comrades in arms for threatening to abandon the four-year-old rebellion. They all belonged to a rebel unit led by a Col. Amirouche, the French said.

A turncoat rebel doctor led French troops to the scene in a deep ravine of the Kabylie Mountains, about 100 miles east of Algiers, the announcement said. Some 4,000 rebel troops in the area withdrew when army troops approached, it added.

Authorities in Paris viewed the continuing violence in France and the reported mass murders in Algeria as part of the rebel campaign against Premier de Gaulle's proposed constitution. The constitution fails to grant Algeria immediate independence. De Gaulle never has said what plans he has for Algeria.

Special Service Set In St. Jacob's Church

"A Day Apart" service will begin at 9:45 a.m. Sept. 30 in St. Jacob's Church. Mrs. David W. Skeen of Mentor will be the leader for this special event, which is sponsored by the Lisbon Council of Churches.

Mrs. Skeen has worked recently with Dr. Thomas Carrouth, head of the World Prayer Movement of the Methodist Church, and she has studied with and lead prayer groups in Washington, D.C., Massachusetts, Virginia, Pennsylvania and Tennessee.

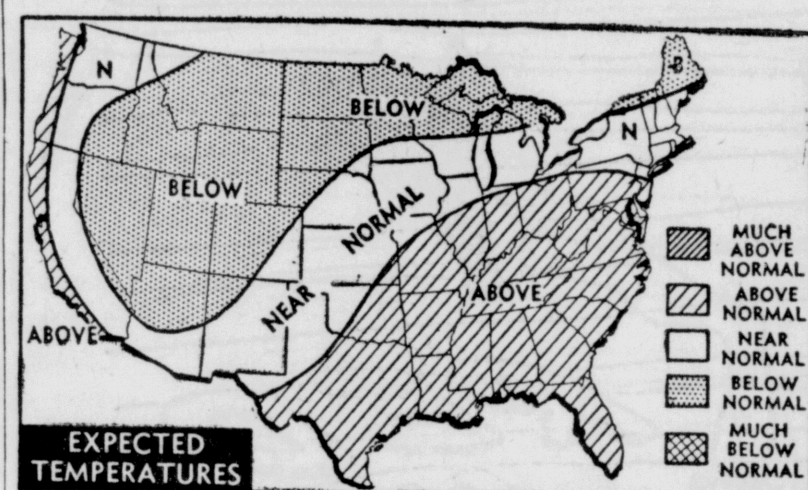

Those attending are asked to bring their own lunches. Beverages will be furnished.

TRAILER BREAKS LOOSE

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa. (AP) — Barber Harry G. Gause had a close shave when a tractor-trailer broke loose and crashed into his barber shop a few minutes after he had left. No one was hurt.

Warm East, Cool West

Weather maps below show the U.S. Weather Bureau's 30-day forecast from mid-September to mid-October. It is not a specific forecast in the usual sense, but an ESTIMATE of average temperatures and precipitation for the period.

The outlook from mid-September to mid-October calls for temperatures above normal over the southeastern quarter of the nation, Texas, the Ohio Valley through the Middle Atlantic States and the West Coast. Near normal is indicated for New England, the eastern Great Lakes and part of the West. Elsewhere below normal temperatures are anticipated.

Rainfall for the period is expected to exceed normal over most of the area lying between the Appalachians and the Continental Divide. Subnormal amounts are expected for the Southeast and far Southwest. Otherwise, normal precipitation is indicated.

End of the Diplomatic Line

Patience and tact are two of the cardinal rules of diplomacy. The average citizen is often appalled by the language and actions tolerated by those engaged in international relations as the routine method of doing business.

Consequently, most Americans probably felt like cheering President Eisenhower when he returned as unacceptable Nikita Khrushchev's latest diatribe disguised as a "diplomatic note." Every man understands that there are times when an abusive attack is best answered by refusing it the dignity of an answer.

Actually, by taking the action he did, the President disproved the very accusation the Kremlin has hurled at him in its fury at being scorned.

It says, for instance, the return of the bitter letter shows American authorities do not want to "listen to the voice of reason." What is reasonable about charging the United States with "aggression" because it acts to defend a nation with whom it has a defense agreement?

The Red bosses also charge that the U. S. ignores the "popular demand for putting an end to the policy of saber rattling which is carrying the world to the brink of war." What is more entitled to the label of "saber rattling" than Khrushchev's threat to expel American forces from the Formosa area if they do not leave voluntarily? Who started the current shooting there, anyway?

And Pravda, the voice of "truth" the way Moscow sees it, claims that the President's rejection of the letter constituted "a violation of the generally accepted rules of diplomatic relations." As the White House statements on the subject so clearly emphasized, Khrushchev's harangue did not fall within the outermost limits of the patience and tact expected in diplomatic practice.

The truth is that the U.S. has bent over backwards to open every avenue short of appeasement to the peaceful solution of the current trouble.

It has resumed the diplomatic negotiations with the Red Chinese which earlier had been hopelessly bogged down by the adamant, baseless attitude of the Peiping representatives. Despite the skepticism of nearly everyone else, the President and the secretary of state have expressed hope that something constructive might come out of the Warsaw talks.

If those talks fail, the U.S. will take the issue before the United Nations, which is founded upon the principle of peacefully settling international conflicts. And the U.N. itself is marking time on the matter to give the Warsaw negotiators a chance to work things out.

On the other hand, the Communists in both Peiping and Moscow have backgrounded the Warsaw meetings with one threatening tactic after another, culminated by the abusive and insulting Khrushchev letter of last Friday.

At that point the President of the United States felt compelled to call a halt. His patience could be taxed, his tact imposed upon, but he would not be bullied.

College on Monthly Payments

As the new college year bursts into full bloom, parents are becoming more painfully aware than ever before of a significant discrepancy between two aspects of higher education.

From the standpoint of career qualification and future security, a college education moves higher and higher on the list of life's necessities. To those who have to pay for one, however, it remains way up on the list of life's luxuries.

The average cost of a year at college to day stands at about $1,500 at a public institution and $2,000 in a private school—double the 1940 price tag. This doesn't allow for many frills, either, because most of the student's budget problems are the same as his family's at home: higher living costs. To balance his books on that appropriation, he generally accepts something less than the best housing and dining facilities, keeps his entertainment and clothing expenses to a minimum, and forgets about following the athletic teams to out-of-town games. Even the wealthy student who can indulge his appetite for "extras" doesn't have to exert himself to drop $5,000 or more during a school year.

For parents whose little ones are in the lower grades of elementary school, there is still more sobering news. Most experts believe that higher education costs will probably treble in 10 years. One report says they will probably do better than that, soaring from a total three billion dollars a year now to 11 billion as 1970 approaches.

Yet the increasing demand for well trained people in all walks of life will in the same period widen that gap between the necessity and the luxury of advanced schooling.

A Harvard economist proposes that the most promising and most practical way to close the gap is credit financing. In the rapid assimilation of credit buying into the American way of life, he says, it has been virtually untapped as a way to acquire an education. He feels it is "incomprehensible" that the nation has an average family debt of $3,000 for durable goods but an average college-tudent debt of only $20, especially if an education is viewed as the most productive of all commodities.

The plan would combine savings during the pre-college period of a person's life to accumulate a sort of "down payment" on his advanced education and the post-college repayment of his debt out of the increased income he can expect as the holder of a degree.

Thus, the expert says, colleges and universities should move into the field of credit financing as aggressively as more and more sellers of goods and services do. It is possible, he points out, to take a trip around the world on the installment plan. Why not a trip to college?

Traffic Safety Recipe

A Lisbon school bus is hit by an automobile almost within a week of a similar fatal mishap near Columbiana . . . a car near Warren strikes the rear of a haywagon carrying a party of teenagers . . . and a pedestrian is the victim of a hit-skip motorist in Alliance.

None are related accidents but the frequency of avoidable traffic accidents in the fall season points unmistakably to the fact that motorists are not adjusting themselves to meet such climate changes as foggy mornings and shortened daylight hours.

Next will come winter weather with icy and snow-covered roads—time again for all motorists to temper their driving to whatever conditions are present.

The right combination for safe driving is a mixture of alertness, restraint of the accelerator pedal, a firm grip of the wheel and a good pinch of common sense.

HOW COME SO MANY sweetie-boy types pouring songs into American living rooms about love that shall never die seem to cut their wives and kiddies off with such short-time affection? It's getting so you can't listen to a lad loudly crooning in the "as-we-grow-old-together" pattern without asking, "I wonder if he can stand his wife much longer; they've endured each other almost a year."

We were checking on some notable show words ever-smiling lads dedicating their vocal chords to long distance devotion to the one and only gal, and were dumbfounded by the number involved in minimum endurance for home life.

Great Sport While the Air Holds Out

Political Outlook

By RAYMOND MOLEY

This commentator has always been hesitant about predicting the results of elections. There are a number of good reasons for this. In the first place, he conceives of his job as saying what he thinks ought to happen rather than what will happen. Since he is privileged to sign his material as opinion, he realizes how much he wants things to happen and, therefore, that his judgment may be mingled with wishful thinking.

There is also the very practical fact that prophecy involves so many incalculable and unknowable factors that it is exceedingly dangerous and likely to be misleading. I want neither to mislead nor to discredit myself. The crystal ball is a time bomb.

BUT HERE and now, with the proviso that before election the outlook might change, after talking with a good many competent observers, I find that it is a safe chance that the Republican party stands to lose about six Senate and 30 House seats in the forthcoming election. That is a defeat of very considerable proportions.

As the Senate contest are concerned, Maine is lost, and Michigan; Knight in California looks bad (I believe he will run behind Knowlton); New Jersey likewise seems precarious; Hogan with a big New York City vote stands to win West Virginia, electing two senators, will split, and Alaska will split. The chances are even in Connecticut and Wyoming.

There will be hard fighting in Utah, Arizona, and Pennsylvania but the Republican candidates have the edge. No one seems to have a guess about Nevada. There is a good chance of a Republican beating Proxmire in Wisconsin.

Bricker and Handley seem safe in Ohio and Indiana.

A fair evaluation of these possibilities would mean about six net Senate losses.

So far as the House is concerned, the estimate of loss I mention above takes account of the great number of retirements of conservative Republican members and other factors of a more general character.

I cannot believe that the general economic situation is the predominant reason for Republican distress.

THE EFFECT of the recession was not general, nor was it especially hard on workers except in selected industries.

Savings and the standard of living were not greatly impaired.

It certainly was not, despite the exploitation of the issue by politicians, something to cause a national voting trend.

Much of the trouble for the Republican party came from within itself. Modern Republicanism, exploited by a few amateurs around an amateur President, hurt very considerably.

It chilled the enthusiasm of thousands of Republican regulars over the country and turned candidates away from dependence upon the President's prestige and record to a personal fight for survival at the polls.

The Aams mess was, to say the least, highly embarrassing to a party elected to elevate standards of public conduct.

Generally, it can be recorded with some sadness by Republicans that while the Republican party could survive many defeats at the polls, it has suffered more by two presidential victories.

Unity and revival will have to wait until the election this year is over and faces are turned to 1960.

In that revival the role of Vice President Nixon must be the most important element. For he knows the facts of political life and can be articulate in spelling out a party philosophy in the months and years after the defeat.

Khrushchev's Error

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Ike, Dulles Are Firm With Red China Policy

There is a commendable firmness in the heroic way by which President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles are conducting American policy toward Red China and its military ally, the Soviet Union. It's a firmness that can save mankind from a world war. Had the same firmness been exhibited by David Lawrence, the West toward Hitler in the 1930s, World War II might never have happened.

The same kind of influences, unfortunately, which were prevalent in Europe, and brought on the second World War have been manifest in recent weeks in this country. There has been unwitting and unintentional encouragement given to the dictators in Moscow and Peiping.

Whether motivated by political partisanship or by misguided pacifism or by some of the 'Let's-do-Business-with-Hitler' selfishness that today is calling out for recognition of Red China "as a fact," the truth is this apparent acceptance of the Communist viewpoint has afforded Nikita Khrushchev an opportunity to take advantage of American dissension and disunity.

Close examination of the latest letter from the Soviet Premier shows that he adopts virtually every one of the points which have been made by the anti-administration spokesmen in the country when they argue the China problem.

THERE ARE, for instance, the claims, frequently reiterated, that Chiang Kai-shek represents no one but himself, or that the offshore islands belong to the mainland of China anyhow, or that they aren't worth fighting for, or that the President and Mrs. Dulles do not represent true American public opinion and are trying to provoke a war.

Emphasis on this line of argument has misled many a man on the street in this country.

The Soviet Premier repeats all this with a confidently expressed feeling that he has American public opinion back of him. But where Khrushchev miscalculates is in his demand that the United States get out of Formosa.

Up to now there have been in this country some serious advocates of "Two Chinas"—that is, a trustee Formosa and a Communist China on the mainland, each independent and each to be admitted to the United Nations.

This plan has been urged as a compromise. But from the pen of Khrushchev comes now the word that it is all or nothing and that he wants America to cease aiding the Nationalist government on Formosa.

He warns that the Red forces intend to take over Formosa completely. It's a demand for unconditional surrender.

In a sense Khrushchev confirms the soundness of the point made all along by President Eisenhower ad Secretary Dulles that the offshore islands were really sought by Red China as a base from which to attack and conquer Formosa.

THE UNITED STATES, however, has a mutual protection treaty with the Nationalist government on Formosa, which now holds the offshore islands. Hence, an attack on Quemoy could be the beginning of an attack on Formosa.

This is a simple piece of military strategy. Yet many Americans, apparently anxious for peace at any price, have overlooked it and have tried to make it appear that Quemoy by itself could be surrendered without causing the collapse of the Nationalist army of 500,000 and of the military forces of the free governments of the Philippines, South Korea and Vietnam.

It is incomprehensible just why any American would urge a step that could mean the throwing away of the potential use of a million armed men now ready to defend American interests in the Far East. To yield to that doctrine means, of course, increasing the draft calls of American boys in order to protect the American position in the Far East.

Yet that has been the direction in which the critics of the administration have been drifting. They belittle Chiang Kai-shek and discourage the Chinese people who still believe in freedom.

FORMOSA IS A SYMBOL of the yearnings of millions of Chinese for freedom. To abolish that symbol and to give the impression that it is just one man who wants to see Formosa protected against the Communists is to play into the hands of the Reds.

It could encourage them to make a miscalculation about the strength of America's determination and the extent to which the American people would back up their own government. Such a gamble could bring on a world war.

The refusal of President Eisenhower officially to receive the Khrushchev letter is, of course, just a gesture. What the Soviet Premier wrote had already been widely published.

The President has made the point nevertheless that, at the very time when negotiations between ambassadors from Red China and the United States are trying at conferences in Poland to work out a cease-fire and peace agreement on the whole problem of Formosa, the Soviet leader comes up with a demand for the expulsion of American forces from Formosa and the withdrawal of the American fleet from that area.

He does not want to confine the issue to the offshore islands alone.

Firmness could bring peace in the Far East but any policy of the United States becomes weak and ineffective abroad unless all Americans stand firm behind the President.

The Communists must be convinced that all factions here are uniting in demanding a renunciation of the use of force in the Far East.

Labor Relations

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) Talking to your employees is often harder today than you might think.

Sometimes the talking is dramatic—as this week in Detroit. But it goes on the year around, usually in a lower key although an insistent one. The difficulties are:

There's a natural cynicism on the part of the worker as to the motives and targets. More general is the great feathered indifference into which your punchiest points may land. Many workers are understandably more interested in their take home pay than in the problems of the boss.

And now and then Uncle Sam looks over your shoulder. He has some do's and even more don'ts as to what you can say about unions, wages and working conditions.

But beyond these legal barriers, there are many fields in which management can commune with labor—and does so with an increasing number of words and at an increasing annual cost.

Experts in the field of labor relations estimate that the nation's corporations are spending more than 30 million dollars this year in attempts—successful or just hopeful—to communicate with their employees and the communities in which they operate.

The two most popular devices: The company house organ and the company bulletin board.

The house organ has waxed greatly, both in number and in performance. An estimated 4,000 are now regularly issued. Take in the now and then issues and those by the smallest firms and some think the total number might be 20,000.

The company bulletin board takes all manner of employee communications. It may hold news photos aimed at building worker morale, or scores of plant bowling or baseball teams (aimed less directly at the same target), or safety appeals (aimed both at doing good and saving money).

Newspapers and radio stations in the areas where plants are located are offered stories about the company and about its employees. Beyond their news value is the hope that the items will win friends for the firm among its workers' families as well as the community in general.

In times of stress companies resort to telling their story in stuffers in payroll envelopes, or letters directly to workers' homes. Personal contact is sought through supervisors or over public address systems. Some firms use closed circuit TV during lunch hours or coffee breaks.

Or happier occasions a growing favorite with management is the open house or visiting day. Some are designed to let the family see how dad and mom spend their working hours—and how important the firm says they really are. Others try to get the town folk to see that the company is a community asset and really has a heart.

Fairfield Mothers Club
To Hear Talk by Educators

COLUMBIANA — Three members of the Fairfield-Waterford School district educational staff will answer questions relating to "Teacher - Parent Conferences" when the Fairfield Mothers Study Group meets at 2 p.m. Wednesday in Fairfield school.

The guest educators will be Lorin Ruff, Ralph Meyers and Mrs. Marilyn Solak. Baby sitters will be provided for mothers by the Future Teachers of America unit. The Fairfield-Waterford district reports a total enrollment of 910 for the new school year, including 414 at the Waterford building and 496 at Fairfield.

Six teachers with temporary certificates have been hired for one year.

They are: Pat Frazzini, seventh grade and junior high coach; Mrs. Hazel Weaver, sixth grade; Mrs. Kathleen Kerr, fourth grade; Mrs. Eunice Russell, third grade; Ed Van, shop and general business, and Walter DeSanti, commercial subjects and guidance.

MAYOR E. L. CALVIN will conduct a hearing Wednesday afternoon for Charles Clark, 52, of East Palestine, driver of an ambulance involved in a collision with an auto last Thursday at the intersection of Routes 14 and 164.

Clark was charged by the State Highway Patrol for not exercising caution while "breaking through a traffic light."

MARK KLINGENSMITH of Columbiana, president of the Columbiana County Motor Club, has announced the organization placed first in the state during the last year in "over-all operation" and has received the revolving president's trophy for its achievement. The trophy will be displayed at the Union Banking Co., of which Klingensmith is president.

A PUBLIC MEETING to discuss the 2 mill levy for the general health district in Columbiana county will be held at 8:30 p.m. Monday, Sept. 29, at St. George's Parish Hall in Lisbon. Speakers will include Atty. Donald Elliott of Rogers, Dr. C. S. Palmer, county health commissioner, and Howard Cole of Lisbon, president of the board of health.

Steps to a Long Life---

Paddy in the Port

By EDDY GILMORE

REYKJAVIK, Iceland (AP) — Lost in the maw of history is the startling fact that an Irishman discovered Iceland.

The present natives don't even remember his name. But when the first Vikings hit these misty shores, they found a Paddy in port.

He was a hermit, and how he reached this off-beat, volcanic, lava-laden land of gorgeous sunsets, strong winds and fishy water, nobody seems to know. The theory is irresistible, however, that the original Irishman must be responsible for the always delightful, sometimes crazy, generally surrealistic behavior of a large number of the island's 165,000 inhabitants.

Iceland is a High North country, but it's hospitality is Deep South. When people invite you to their homes at 2 o'clock in the morning they expect you to come and enjoy yourself.

And when you apologize to your friend's wife for invading her house with the dawn, she looks puzzled and replies:

"I don't think you understand. This is Iceland. You're welcome at any hour."

Then she floats into her modern kitchen — dishwashers, washing machines, electric driers and toasters are as common a cod in Iceland — and whips up a dream of a dish. It's not fashioned from whale blubber, either.

Icelandic parties are puzzlers. One of the reasons is the extremely unique system of peoples' names.

Less than 100 families have family monikers. The rest of the people are known by their fathers' first names.

It can be startling to have your host say, "I'm Magnus Jonsson. This is my wife, Helga Olafsdottir."

"How do you do, Mrs. Jones?"

"Fine, but I'm not Mrs. Jones. I'm Helga Olafsdottir."

"But Mr. Jonsson is your husband?"

"He's my husband, but he's really not Mr. Jonsson. He's Magnus, the son of Jon, or Magnu Jonsson."

"Because my father was Olaf. I'm Helga, the daughter of Olaf, or Helga Olafsdottir."

"And your son? What's his name?"

"He's Benedikt Magnusson."

"Not Benedikt Jonsson?"

"Of course not. His father, my husband, is Jon's son, or Jonson. He—our boy—he's Magnu' son, nussun."

"And your daughter?"

"She's Inga Magnusdottir. It's all so simple."

GUEST NIGHT will be observed Oct. 2 by members of Gamma Gamma Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha Sorority. Invitations have been issued for the party which will be held at the home of Mrs. Mishael Fromm of the Goshen Road.

Saturday evening, members and their husbands enjoyed a hayride followed by a corn and wienner roast at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Scullion of Franklin Road.

SIX SALEM STUDENTS are enrolled in Malone College in Canton.

They are: Walt L. Krauss, a senior of 220 S. Union Ave.; Harry Lottman, sophomore, of 488 Perry St.; Dorothy Parker, junior, of Salem; Grace Stratton, junior, of 1199 Buckeye Ave.; Jack H. Thorne, freshman, of 821 E. 3rd St.; and Galen P. Weingart, senior, of RD 4, Salem.

Area students include Steffan E. Maze, freshman, and Roger M. Maze, senior, both of RD 1, Hanover; Margaret J. Phelps, freshman of Winona; and George E. Robinson, senior, of Washingtonville.

GOSHEN CENTER Mothers Club met Friday at Goshen Center School. It was decided to observe visitation day Oct. 24 in the classrooms at the school. The club will also provide a Halloween treat for the children.

Mrs. Eugene Malmbsberry conducted the business meeting. Each member was asked to suggest a fund raising project. Mr. Earl Moffett will be in charge of tax stamp collection.

WOMEN OF THE CHURCH will meet Wednesday at 8 p.m. at the Emmanuel Lutheran Church. Mrs. Richard Freseman will show films. This joint session will take the place of the monthly circle meetings.

TWENTY MEMBERS were enrolled at the Dried Flower Arrangers Class held recently at the Arrangers Shop, 1580 N. Ellsworth Ave., and sponsored by the Salem Garden Center.

The instructor, Mrs. George F. Jones of the Salem Garden Club, stressed the need for depth dimension for dried arranging. During the lecture, Mrs. Jones demonstrated essential principle step by step by making an arrangement of Eucalyptus leaves, fern and Ceroptera leaves in a footed copper urn.

Members are asked to bring an arrangement to the class workshop Sept. 30. Pine cone wreaths and wooden plaques will be discussed. Enrollment in the class is still open. Mr. A. Powell Schmauch is in charge of registration.

THE 38th ANNUAL state convention of Ohio Child Conservation Leagues will be Oct. 1 and 2 in Columbus.

A workshop for women of all federations will be held Sept. 30 from 2 to 4 p.m. Mrs. Ralph Deniston, state vice president, will preside. Several area people plan to attend.

THE WEST SIDE Community Club will meet Thursday at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Conkle of Damascus Road. Mr. and Mrs. George Dressel will be associate hosts.

Virginia Hawthorne To Wed Dennis Flugan

Miss Virginia Hawthorne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Hawthorne of RD 4, Lisbon, has chosen Oct. 5 as the date for her marriage to Dennis Flugan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Flugan of RD 2, Salem.

The open church ceremony will take place at the First Presbyterian Church in Lisbon, with the Rev. Paul Gerrard officiating. The service at 3:30 p.m. will be preceded by a half hour of nuptial music.

Friends and relatives are invited to the reception to be held in the church social room.

Miss Hawthorne is a 1957 graduate of David Anderson High School. Mr. Flugan was graduated from Goshen Union High School in 1956. He is employed by the Salona Supply Co. at Winona.

THANKS

The Board of Directors and all of the members of the Y.W.C.A. wish to sincerely thank, each and every one in the Community Players Group for the splendid show "Two Blind Mice" that they produced, September 16, 17 and 18th.

We also want to thank all of the merchants, firms, individuals and patrons who so generously gave their support and made this production possible.

The net proceeds will be used to purchase furnishings for the auditorium in the new Y.W.C.A. building.

We greatly appreciate your support and wish the Community Players increasing success and continued participation in the cultural life of Salem.

Miss Shirley Werner Becomes Bride of Anthony Kataro Jr.

Miss Shirley Ann Werner and Anthony Kataro Jr. exchanged their marriage vows Saturday at 4:30 p.m. before the altar of the Emmanuel Lutheran Church.

Palms, ferns, sevenbranch candelabra and twin vases of white gladioli, mums and pompons enhanced the altar setting where the Rev. Richard D. Freseman performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Werner of New Garden Road. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Frances Kataro of E. State St. and Anthony Kataro of Pidgeon Road.

"Because," "At Darning," "Ich Liebe Dich" and "The Lord's Prayer" were sung by Erwin J. Bendel of Youngstown. Miss Bonnie Mith of Salem was organist.

Mr. Werner gave his daughter in marriage. For her wedding, Miss Werner chose a full-length gown of taffeta styled with long tapered sleeves. The sweetheart neckline was outlined with sequin scattered Viennese lace. Matching lace appliques trimmed the bouffant skirt which featured a bustle back and a chapel train.

Seed pearls and sequin trimmed the lace crown which held her fingertip veil of silk illusion. Her bridal bouquet was a cascade arrangement of white carnations, stephanotis and white orchids.

The bride's four attendants were attired in ballerina-length gowns of taffeta. The frocks were fashioned over princess lines with sweet heart necklines and cap sleeves. A bow adorned the hem line of each gown. They wore matching Dior bow headbands.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Michael H. Stumpert of Salem, appeared in a turquoise dress and carried a cascade bouquet of sweetheart roses and pink carnations.

The bridesmaids were Miss Barbara Darling of Youngstown, a cousin of the bride, Miss Jary Jo Foltz of Youngstown, former classmate of the bride, and Miss Judy Holzinger of Salem.

A cascade arrangement of pink rose and pink pompon was carried by Miss Darling who wore an aqua gown. With her coat-colored frock, Miss Foltz carried a bouquet of orange delight roses and yellow pompons.

Talisman roses and bronze pompons formed the bouquet carried by Miss Holzinger who was gown-d in gold taffeta.

Michael H. Stumpert of Salem was Mr. Kataro's best man. The ushers were William Richard Werner of Salem, brother of the bride, Walter Spack of Salem and Virgil Domer of Hartsville.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Werner chose a Dior blue lace sheath over taffeta, while Mrs. Kataro wore a royal blue faille dress. Both wore matching accessories and corsage of pink roses and carnations.

The dinner reception was held at the Saxon Club. The bride's table was centered with a four-tiered wedding cake, topped with a bridal figurine.

Miss Rosina Schell of Salem, cousin of the bride, registered the 250 guests from Salem, Youngstown, Cleveland, Canton, Alliance, Leetonia, Farrell, and New Caste, Pa., and Detroit, Mich.

Mrs. Kataro is a graduate of Salem High School and the Aultman Hospital School of Nursing in Canton. Mr. Kataro graduated from Salem High School and is employed as an apprentice pressman by the Salem Label Co.

Niagara Falls and the New England states is the honeymoon destination of the couple. For traveling, the bride wore a beige faille dress with matching accessories and the orchid from her wedding bouquet.

The couple will reside in their new home on New Garden Road.

Mr. and Mrs. Leland Guy Jr. of MC 1, Salem, recently visited in the Shenandoah Valley of Virginia, where they toured the world famous Luray Caverns, Luray, Va.

W. 6th St. Couple Married 25 Years

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Petras of W. 6th St. were honored at a surprise open house Sunday in honor of their 25th wedding anniversary.

The couple's children, Mary Ann and Frank Jr. at home and Mrs. Robert Yartz of Cleveland, planned the affair which was held at the home of Mrs. Petras' niece and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Schuyler Livingston of Rea Drive.

Seventy-five guests greeted the couple during the afternoon.

An arrangement of 25 white roses and maidenhair fern centered the buffet table, flanked by silver candelabra. Miss Petras presided at the silver service.

The honorees received many gifts.

Mr. Petras and the former Mary Gados were married Sept. 16, 1928 in Cleveland. Mr. Petras is employed by the Metal Wood Manufacturing Co.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

At least one big corporation — the Gulf Oil people — are pouring fuel on the political fires — which should make the next congressional and presidential elections the hottest since the Australians invented the ballot.

Victor Riesel on the theory that American businessmen should be "up to their ears" in politics.

In this call to action, Gulf Oil's executive suite in Pittsburgh breaks precedent in its gloves-off attack on organized labor's political activity.

This public challenge was released in an open letter to over 161,000 employees, stockholders and dealers by vice president Archie Gray. Bluntly he says:

"The fact that organized labor has been following a similar line of action is the reason that labor leaders have achieved dominance over our national legislative assembly.

"If our free competitive institution are to be preserved from destruction by the unholy combination of predatory gangsterism and crackpot socialism that is thriving and expanding under labor's congressional benevolence, then business has no choice. It must do likewise or throw in the towel."

NO CORPORATIN has ever talked of all labor in these terms. Few corporations in recent years have so outspokenly said, in effect, let's take them all on.

Few, if any, major corporations have challenged labor on any front these past decades with so unconcerned an attitude. In his open letter to shareholders, dealers and employees, Mr. Gray says:

"If we are to survive, labor's political power must now be opposed by a matching force and there is no place in the U.S. where such a force can be generated except among the corporations that make up American business.

"Because this is so, Gulf management has determined that in the future the corporation will take an increasingly active interest in practical politics. Of necessity, such a course requires a program, and a proper program, in turn, needs long and careful planning. Therefore, it is not yet possible to lay down a detailed statement of all Gulf's decision eventually will involve.

"Yet certain types of activity are obviously indispensable to the success of any program. For one thing, Gulf will encourage its shareholders, employees and dealers to become more active participants in the politics of the area in which they live."

GULF OIL CORP. then announces that it will do exactly what the AFL-CIO Committee on Political Education (COPE) has been doing — check the voting records of all congressmen and other elected officials.

Gulf Oil will study their speeches. The company researchers will check the attendance records of congressmen at important sessions.

They will analyze the congressmen's official attitudes as revealed by their activity on House and Senate Committees.

The point Gulf Oil makes is that the research will determine whether congressmen are serving "shareholders, employees and dealers well, little, or not at all."

Then the information will be distributed by states and congressional districts "to serve in each area as a nucleus of fact around which a program of action may be developed."

The company says that "so much is at stake" that "it would be foolhardy" to rush this practical political action program. The company indicates that it will be hitting its stride in the presidential election rather than this fall.

But, says Vice President Gray, there is enough time to contribute cash to candidates of either party. First, however, the corporation suggests that the employees, shareholders and dealers then go out and elect one.

A check of the political front reveals that scores of other companies are swinging into "practical politics" in at least six industrial states. There will be more.

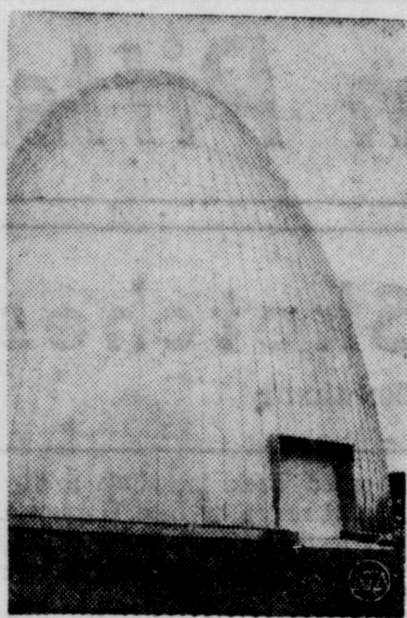

There'll be some hot campaigns

Stone-Picking Machine Program Is Postponed

LISBON — A stonepicking machine demonstration at the Firestone Farms scheduled for tonight has been postponed until Friday night, Floyd Lower, county extension agent, reports.

The demonstration was initially scheduled for Sept. 18 but was canceled because of rain. Rescheduled for tonight, it was postponed because of wet fields.

The demonstration is scheduled from 6:30 to 8 p.m. in the fields at Firestone Farms. Many machines of this type are now being used by potato and vegetable growers in place of manually clearing the fields of stones.

Guarding Your Health

Inflammation of Leg Veins

S. W. asks for description of milk leg, saying that there have been three cases in the neighborhood recently. This seems like rather a high number to come in such succession, although this disorder cannot really be considered rare.

Milk leg is the common name applied to a certain kind of inflammation of one of the veins in the leg. It causes a whitish swelling of the limb and is often associated with a fair amount of discomfort. Unfortunately it is not a particularly easy condition to treat.

It is better, I think, to devote some discussion to phlebitis and thrombophlebitis in general rather than just to milk leg, since the latter is merely one variety of a still more common condition.

PHLEBITIS is defined as an inflammation of the inside lining of the veins. This inflammation is more common in the blood vessels of the leg than elsewhere. When the inflammation is accompanied by blood clots inside the veins it is called thrombophlebitis.

The two conditions can well be considered together. Either can result from varicose veins, from injury to the blood vessels, from insufficient exercise, such as prolonged bed rest, particularly in the presence of chronic disease; from certain blood disorders and from a number of other things. However, a definite cause quite often cannot be found at all.

One of the most interesting recent discussions of this subject was based on a study of over 700 patients seen at the Boston City Hospital.

In these patients the conditions predisposing to phlebitis were found in the following order of frequency: heart disease, complication following operation, injury, no obvious cause, infection, varicose veins, childbirth, apoplexy, cancer and miscellaneous causes. Childbirth, it should be noted, is a relatively uncommon cause.

OBVIOUSLY the best line of attack on phlebitis and its relatives would be prevention. However, since most of the conditions which tend toward the development of phlebitis cannot always be prevented, comparatively little progress seems to have been made in reducing the frequency.

Hence treatment is of great importance not only because of the difficulty presented by phlebitis and thrombophlebitis themselves, but also because of the complications they can produce. The principal one is the breaking off of a clot which is carried by the blood stream to the lungs (pulmonary embolism).

The report from the Boston City conservative (nonsurgical) treatment alone is usually inadequate. The veins above the area of the phlebitis in the legs often should be cut as soon as diagnosis has been made and any clots removed.

There is some difference of opinion on the best management of phlebitis and thrombophlebitis. So anyone with such a disorder should seek the best available advice as promptly as possible.

Phillies Sweep Doubleheader From Pittsburgh 3-2, 1-0

Ashburn Regains Lead Over Mays

21 Pirates Whiff In 14-Inning Tilt

By The Associated Press

Richie Ashburn has regained the lead from Willie Mays in the National League's tightest race for the batting title since 1954—the year Willie won on the last day of the season.

Ashburn, hitless in three games, swept back into the top spot with a 6-for-10 surge that paid off a two-night doubleheader sweep for Philadelphia over the Pittsburgh Pirates. The Phils won the opener 3-2 in 14 innings, then took the nightcap 1-0 as the Bucs swished to a pair of strikeouts records.

Those were the only two games scheduled in the NL Monday. Baltimore defeated Washington 2-0, a record-tying fourth consecutive shutout defeat for the Senators, in the only American League game scheduled.

Ashburn, whose lone bat title came in 1955, picked up five points after going 4-for-4 in the second game for a .343 average. That's .001 ahead of the idle Mays, who stands at .342 after a hot weekend for San Francisco. Mays has five games left, Ashburn four.

Ashburn, 0-for-11 before getting his 200th hit Monday night, scored the lone run of the nightcap in the seventh inning. He beat out a bunt and stole second. Then he flashed all the way home as Pirate second baseman Bill Mazeroski struggled to gain his balance after making a nice stop on Ted Kazanski's infield hit.

Jack Sanford (10-13) was the winner with a seven-hitter for his first complete game since July 4. Bobby Young, who had homered in the first inning, scored the tie breaker in the opener for the Phils, coming home on Dave Philley's single off loser Ron Kline (13-16), who went all the way. Jack Meyer (2-6) won it in relief. He fanned seven in his three innings after starter Seth Morehead had struck out 12 in nine innings and Dick Farrell had whiffed two in two innings.

Bennie Daniels (0-3) matched Sanford's seven-hitter for the nightcap defeat.

Former Quaker End Has Nose Broken In Drill

Jim Horn, a defensive stalwart for the 1957 Quaker football squad, recently suffered a broken nose during a practice session at Westminster College where he is a freshman candidate.

Coach Harold Burry of the Titans had Horn working at first string end on defense and second string end on the offensive squad prior to the mishap.

Horn, who was Columbian County pole vault champ last spring, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Horn of MC 1, Salem. His brother, Charlie, plays end on this year's Salem squad.

On the play Horn injured his nose, the man that was tackled had his leg broken.

College Teams Review Saturday's Mistakes

By The Associated Press

Monday was soul searching day on the college gridiron front — that weekly ritual from now till the end of November where coaches bring to life the ghost of a Saturday just passed and present a vision of one that lies ahead.

Frank Howard of Clemson, 20-15 victor over Virginia last Saturday in an Atlantic Coast Conference game, sounded the keynote when he told his squad:

"I want all you boys to be on the 'B' team. That means be good or be gone."

The Tigers began preparation for Saturday's game with North Carolina, while the Tarheels worked the first two teams in light workouts and the reserves in a heavy scrimmage.

Navy's Coach Eddie Erdlitz promised his lads two scrimmages this week in preparation for Saturday's William & Mary game. William & Mary stressed passing, goal-line defense and punting.

On the Pacific Coast, stress was laid on inter-sectional clashes with the Big 10. Southern Cal Coach Don Clark warned his players to expect a great deal of passing from Michigan, while at Ann Arbor the Wolverines began looking for replacement for center Dick Syring.

UCLA lost tackle Jim Dawson for the season from a re-injury of a bad shoulder against Pitt last Saturday. Illinois, their Saturday opponent had the day off from

Coach Ray Elliot "to get their snap back."

Washington, Minnesota's opening opponent Saturday, ran through indoor drills in a light workout, a reward for its 14-6 victory over San Jose State Saturday. The Gophers lost right half-back Bill Chorko during a punt drill for at least three weeks.

In the East, Dartmouth welcomed back five back from the injured list while another Ivy League brother, Yale put out the glad hand to two of its injured backfield contingent. Boston College got ready for its game with Syracuse with the return of defensive back Ross O'Hanley and end John Flanagan.

Arkansas' Frank Broyles resurrected some ghosts when he reviewed films of the 12-0 loss to Baylor Saturday. Missouri Coach Dan Devine corrected shortcomings in his defense that cost him a 12-8 loss to Vanderbilt.

Oklahoma held a 45-minute drill, primarily geared to set up defenses against West Virginia's powerful running attack Saturday. The Mountaineers did likewise, with a night blackboard session to correct errors in the victory over Richmond last Saturday.

Ohio State and Iowa, both Big 10 powers, drilled for two hours against plays of upcoming Southwest Conference foes Saturday. Ohio State meets Southern Methodist, The Mustangs concentrated on overcoming mud, injuries and late classes.

Cathedral Latin at Warren; Massillon Travels to Alliance

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS, Ohio (P) — The Black Panthers of Warren Harding are on the prowl for Ohio's high school football championship. The rugged powerhouse coached by Gene Slaughter, the No. 1 mentor of 1957, zoomed to the top spot in the ratings today in the season's first poll of sports writers conducted by The Associated Press.

Massillon, state champion seven of the last 10 years, was only the equivalent of one ninth-place vote behind as 27 sports editors selected the state's top 10 teams.

Warren picked up 180 points on the 10-9-8-etc. voting basis, and Massillon was next with 178. Cleveland Benedictine, defending title holder, was third with 129.

From there on it was a close scrap among the two-game winners. Springfield, rebounding from a poor 1957 campaign, was deadlocked with Hamilton's Big Blue for the fourth spot. Next in order came Cleveland Cathedral Latin, Alliance, Youngstown East, Elyria and Mansfield.

Four of the top 10 get together this weekend, assuring a scrambling of the ratings. Alliance plays host to Massillon, and Warren has Cleveland Cathedral Latin as its guest in the big battles of the unbeaten.

From here and there: John Mummey, the state scoring leader of 1957 from Painesville Harvey, is at it again. He led with 181 a year ago, and in two games this season has 52 points. He got 30 in the 54-0 romp over Warren St. Marys to give his team its 11th straight win. Paul Warfield of Warren, state class AA broad jump champ, scored all three touchdowns in Friday's 18-6 win over Canton McKinley. Don Leightley of Navarre ran 268 yards in 10 tries against Strasburg, scoring on runs of 99, 63 and 45 yards.

Phil (Flip) McKinley of Spencer, a hot-shot ball carrier, suffered a broken arm in the 14-6 loss to Waynesfield. Van Wert's 28-0 win over Defiance was the 39th without a loss by Gil Smith's stalwarts.

Mount Vernon's victory streak was snapped at 19 as Mansfield Madison grabbed an 8-6 upset. Leipsic, which lost all its 1957 games, triumphed 12-0 over Payne. Dover's Tornados, victors over Uhrichsville the last 14 years, were upset 24-8 by the Tigers. It was Uhrichsville's sixth win in the 45-year rivalry.

Massillon is worried about the Friday game at Alliance. Aviator Coach Mal Knowlton defeated Massillon mentors Chuck Mather and Tom Harp in their first year at the Tiger helm, and now he gets a crack at newcomer Leo Strang. Even pro football could use the pass-catching ends of the Massillon teams. Bob Vogel is 6-5 and weighs 222, and Bill Zorn is 6-4 and weighs 220.

Mickey Vanscoy, a 150-pound junior halfback, went 59 yards to score on Wilmington's first scrimmage play, and has added markers on 25 and 16-yarders. In two games he has scooted 304 yards in 35 carries.

Fred Bradbury of Hamilton is that area's top scorer with 38 points in two tilts.

Timken Ducats On Sale At Local Outlets

Tickets for the Salem-Canton Timken game Friday night at Fawcett Stadium in Canton are now on sale at Fisher's News Agency and Heddleston's Drug Stores. They will be on sale at $1 each for adults until 4 p.m. Friday. There will be no reserved seats. Ticket bearers will be entitled to sit in Sec. 13 which is on the south side near the 50-yard line.

Student tickets for Sec. 14 are on sale for 30 cents at the senior high school and the junior high school. At the gate, they will cost 50 cents.

Grade school students may make application for tickets through their respective principals. The principals in each school are requested to call the athletic director's office ED 7-3263 at senior high sometime Friday morning with the number of tickets he needs. They will then be delivered to each school.

A chartered bus for parents will leave from the junior high building on N. Lincoln Ave. at 6 p.m. Friday. Only the first 45 who sign up will go. Tickets for 65 cents for the round trip may be purchased from Fred E. Cope or any cheerleader. If enough sign, two busses will be used.

New Orleans — Arthur Persley, 136½, Red Cross, La., stopped Davey Dupas, 144, New Orleans 8.

Sports Sketches

By GORDON ARNDT

The Salem High School football Quakers will be making history this Friday night when they play the Timken Trojans at Fawcett Stadium in Canton.

They'll be one of four clubs who will be playing in the first doubleheader ever scheduled at the stadium.

The Quakers will play at 8:45 p.m. in the second game of the "twinbill" which will feature Canton Lincoln and Barberton in a 6:30 p.m. contest.

When Salem defeated Canton Timken last year 21-0 it was the first time the Quakers had won over the Trojans since 1952 when they turned the trick 40-20.

The two clubs have met every year since 1947 with the locals holding a slight 6-5 margin in the series.

Last year's win for Salem was the worst suffered by Timken during the 11 games played while Canton's most lopsided win was in 1955 when they clobbered Salem 47-6.

In the 1957 game, Ralph Ehrhart scored twice for the Red and Black and Bill Holzwarth once. Ehrhart's TDs came on a 3-yard run and a four-yard plunge while Holzwarth's touchdown was on a nine-yard pass from Moe Meissner.

Two other scores for Salem were called back including a 64-yard punt return by Lani Waiwaiole. In the 11 games played to date, Canton leads in all-time scoring 196-179.

ATHLETIC Director Fred Cope announces that the annual "Dad's Night" game will be played at Reilly Stadium Oct. 10 when Salem meets Wooster and that the "Mother's Night" contest will be staged the following week, Oct. 16, against Wellsville.

The Salem-Wellsville game will be played on a Thursday night. All other of the six remaining home games will be played on Friday evening.

Cope said the Salem Junior Varsity gridders will tangle with the Niles JVs this Saturday morning at 10 at Reilly Stadium.

NOT MANY towns can boast of having conducted a month - long softball tournament, but Salem can.

The finals in the second annual Salem Invitational Softball Meet will take place this Sunday afternoon, Sept. 28, at Kelly field. The three teams left are Akron Red's Bar, Butler, Pa. Serventis and Canton Freedom for Congress. Akron features southpaw R.1, Fugate who fanned 38 men in an 18-inning game last Saturday while Butler's lineup includes another opener.

Warren Ranked First In Ohio Football Poll

COLUMBUS, Ohio (P) — Here's how 27 sports editors—21 from newspapers and 6 from radio-television stations—rate Ohio's high school football teams in the season's first Associated Press poll. In parentheses, poll points in a 10-9-8-etc. voting basis, and scoring by and against the leaders, all of whom have 2-0 won-lost records.

The tournament began Aug. 28 with 32 teams entered in the double-elimination affair. David Briskin is the tourney director. Umpires who have worked the games have been the Nedelka brothers, Tom and Torch along with Dave Kachner and Wayne Russell. The scorekeepers have been Jim Foreman and Bill Pauline while Doggie Scullion has handled the public address microphone.

JERRY MARTIN of 430 W. State St., last year's captain of the Kent State University cross-country and track squads, is now on the faculty at Junior High School.

Last week in one of his classes he asked his students to list the three stages of life.

One pupil earnestly listed them as childhood, adolescence and adultery.

Hitting — Richie Ashburn, Phillies, regained the National League batting lead at .343 with a 6-for-10 performance in two-night doubleheader sweep over the Pirates, scoring lone run of 1-0 nightcap after 3-2 victory in 14-inning opener.

Questions and Answers

Q—What are two important restrictions placed on the naming of race horses by the Jockey Club?

A—The owner must not come up with a name previously given a horse in the last 15 years. He must also forego names of "classic" race horses.

Q—Is it true that Sir Winston Churchill was born in a palace?

A—Yes, Churchill was born in Blenheim Palace, Oxfordshire.

Southern Governors Confused Over Proper Integration Stand

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Southern governors were confronted today with confusion and conflict over a positive stand, for the record, on integrating schools.

At least two governors have said they will introduce opposing resolutions for consideration at their annual conference.

A formal expression on integration emerged as an issue when Republican Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin of Maryland proposed a resolution which, in effect, would put Dixie governors on record as favoring it.

Georgia's Democratic Gov. Marvin Griffin came back with a proposal urging the conference to protect the government "of the several states against all federal encroachment."

Was No Indication

There was no indication when and if these resolutions actually would come up for a vote of the 14 governors attending the conference.

But one of them, Gov. A. B. Chandler of Kentucky, foresaw no chance of a majority agreeing one way or the other on integration.

The South's most burning issue, absent from the business agenda, got hotter Monday when Gov. Elroy Collins of Florida said it should be resolved by Congress as the first order of business next January.

Collins told the opening business session the current pattern of integration conflict, if continued, could lead to a national catastrophe.

Elaborating at a news conference, he said President Eisenhower could organize commissions of local citizens with authority to resolve the problem at that level. He said federal courts "simply are not equipped to determine local problems."

Injures Racial Relations

"When integration injures racial relations," he said, "I don't think it should be coerced upon any community."

One function is his proposed commissions, Collins said, could be to serve in an advisory capacity to the courts.

Meanwhile, Arkansas Gov. Orval Faubus said he expects to reopen Little Rock schools next Monday, or possibly later in the week, after a city vote on the question of admitting Negroes to the schools.

Faubus, who wants the schools to operate on a private segregated basis, said: "We don't anticipate any legal difficulty, but there could be litigation brought by the federal government. If they want to tie everything up and keep the schools closed further, that will be their responsibility."

Faubus closed Little Rock schools after the U.S. Supreme Court refused to grant a 30-month delay for enrolling Negroes in them.

UNION CREW AT YWCA BUILDING. Gathered at the steps of the new YWCA building on N. Lincoln Ave. about to start another day's work toward finishing the structure are shown a group of plumbers, electricians, bricklayers and plasterers who are donating their services to help complete the community project. Those pictured include John Kelly, Tom Griggs, job superintendent, Louis Slaby, Russell Leaker, Herman Frank, August Gudal, Barney Smith, Joe Shaffer, Ray Shaffer, Okey Anthony, Paul Scott, Dwaine Yeagley, Charles Scott, Don Williams, Bob Ellyson, Harry Brown, Albert Luxeul, George Kurapla, and Don Riley. YW leaders are hopeful that the building will be ready for occupancy next month.

111 Persons Attend Presbyterian Dinner

James Rodman, director of Clarke Observatory at Mount Union College, was guest speaker at a father and son banquet Monday night in the Presbyterian Church.

There were 111 in attendance. The banquet was sponsored by the Salem Chapter, National Council of Presbyterian Men, headed by Raymond Stiver, who presided.

The Rev. Laten Carter presented the devotions and led the group singing.

The September group of the Women's Association served the dinner.

Mr. Stiver appointed the following nominating committee: Edward Wilhelm, chairman; Milton Steiner, Frank Huber and Dr. Sherman Moore.

Announcement was made of the annual Presbyterial meeting Oct. 26 in the First Presbyterian Church in Canton, where registration will begin at 2:30 p. m. Byron Maxson was appointed chairman of a committee to arrange for attendance of local members.

The group voted to furnish materials and build shelves for a church library and to renovate the Boy Scout room.

The Nov. 17 meeting will be a joint session with the Women's Association. Frank Knecht, vice president and general manager of the Brainard Steel Division of the Sharon Steel Corp., will be guest speaker.

month's bombardment. Since Aug. 23, about 325,000 have been fired the Nationalists estimated.

The Nationalists have reported 260 military casualties among the 100,000 soldiers on the Quemoy plus 63 civilians killed and 159 wounded by shells.

The Defense Ministry claims 14 Communist MIG jet fighters shot down plus 3 probables without the loss of a Nationalist jet; and 7 Communist gunboats, 11 torpedo boats and 8 motorized junks sunk at the cost of 3 Nationalist landing ships.

These figures were reviewed here as Adm. Fei met with Chiang in the President's Taipei headquarters. Since the admiral's arrival on Formosa Saturday for a five-day visit, he has conferred with the ranking U.S. officers here and with Nationalist military leaders.

The big problem immediately facing these officers presumably was the supply situation. Nationalist ability to run the Red artillery blockade nine days in a row still has not resulted in sufficient deliveries to the islands.

The most pressing need is for medical supplies. Some were parachuted to big Quemoy Sunday in the first airdrop to that island. Doctors reported that a high percentage of wounded were dying for lack of refrigeration for drugs or a blood bank.

Deaths, Funerals

Richard Watson, 65, Of Lisbon Succumbs

LISBON — Richard Reid Watson, 65, of 323 E. Lincoln Way, co-operator of the Henthorne Chronic Hospital here, died at his home Monday at 11:15 p.m. following an illness of five years.

Born Jan. 6, 1893 in Hazel, O., he was a son of Robert and Margaret Ours Watson. He lived in Lisbon for the past 25 years, during which time he operated the hospital in conjunction with his daughter and wife. A retired potter, he came here from East Liverpool.

He was a member of the First Baptist Church in East Liverpool, International Brotherhood of Operative Potters, and Masonic Lodges.

Mr. Watson is survived by his wife, Mrs. Norma Campbell Watson; one daughter, Mrs. Gary Henthorne of Lisbon; a sister, Mrs. Leona Kapp of East Liverpool; one grandson and two great-grandchildren.

He and his wife would have celebrated their 45th wedding anniversary in January.

Services will be conducted on Thursday at 2:30 p.m. at the Henry Funeral Home by the Rev. R. J. Turner, pastor of the East Liverpool First Baptist Church. Burial will be in Lisbon Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Wednesday from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p.m.

Mrs. Anna Little

Mrs. Anna Little, 73, of 12336 Superior Ave., Cleveland was found dead of natural causes at her home Monday.

Born in Leetonia, June 3, 1885, she was the daughter of William and Mary Jennings Fahey.

A Cleveland resident for 35 years she was a member of St. Agatha Catholic Church there.

Survivors include a daughter, Mrs. Mary Tolston of Cleveland; a son, Earl Little of Canton; a nephew, Edwin Probert, and a niece, Gladys Culbertson, both of Salem.

Services will be Wednesday at 9:30 a.m. at St. Paul Catholic Church, with the Rev. Fr. J. Richard Gaffney officiating. Interment will be in Grandview Cemetery.

Friends may call at the Stark Memorial this evening from 7 to 9.

congressional candidates. They breathed sighs of relief.

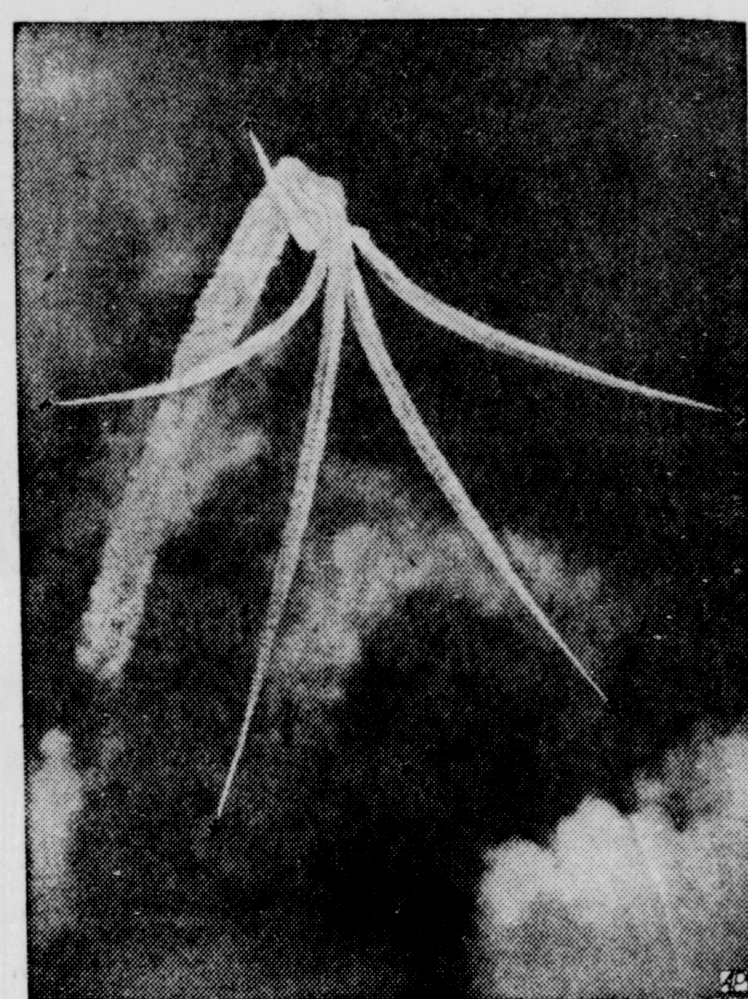

Democrats made it clear Adams' exit will not diminish their glee over what they call "corruption" within the Eisenhower administration.

Asked For Time

The Democrats asked for time — probably to be taken by National Chairman Paul M. Butler — to reply to Adams' statement that to stay on "might possibly diminish the chances which my party has of regaining control of the Congress in the November election."

Holding a manuscript loosely in his hands between slanting microphones, Adams slowly and solemnly read his denial that he had ever influenced or "attempted to influence any agency, or any officer or any employee of any agency in any case, decision or matter whatsoever."

Unmentioned in his simple, forceful 750-word statement was the name of Goldfine, or was there any mention of Adams' repeated calls to regulatory agencies considering cases involving Goldfine's companies.

He said nothing, either, about his future plans when, at 59, he steps from the $22,500-a-year post he has held for nearly six years.

Licking his lips occasionally in his only show of nervousness, Adams said "a calculated and contrived effort" had been made to discredit him.

"A campaign of vilification by those who seek personal advantage by my removal from public life has continued up to this very moment," he said, raising his eyes to look squarely into the television cameras.

"These efforts, it is now clear, have been intended to destroy me and in so doing to embarrass the administration and the President of the United States."

Adams said it was not his nature to run under fire. Neither, he said, did he want to give any grounds for substantiating the accusations against him.

But he had to think, Adams continued, whether his retention in office would delay or retard the achievement of Eisenhower's goals and whether it would damage the chances of the GOP to regain control of Congress.
